

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

Office of Legislative Affairs

Andy Dalal

Senior Advisor, Office of Legislative Affairs

Andy Dalal currently serves as the Senior Advisor in the Office of Legislative Affairs (OLA) for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). In this position he advises and supports the Chief of OLA on immigration law and provides legal analysis, coordinates document clearances for OLA, works on special projects/topics and inquiries as presented by the Chief of OLA, coordinates OLA responses on internal USCIS policy changes, provides assistance on policy correspondence and difficult case inquiry, coordinates OLA responses to FOIA requests, assists with privacy related questions, and assists the OLA Chief of Staff with strategic planning.

Most recently he was an Associate Counsel with the Adjudications Law Division (ALD) of the USCIS Office of the Chief Counsel, stationed in Washington, DC. Immediately preceding his role with ALD, Andy was the Deputy Transformation Counsel while on detail to the Office of Transformation Coordination.

Prior to joining the Department of Homeland Security, Andy was a partner with the Baltimore law firm of Gordon, Feinblatt, Rothman, Hoffberger & Hollander, LLC, where he practiced immigration law by providing advice and counsel to clients on an extensive array of immigration related legal issues such as obtaining temporary work authorization and permanent residence for multi-national executives, high-technology workers, researchers and scientists, and medical personnel. He also assisted individuals to obtain U.S. visas or to become U.S. citizens.

Mr. Dalal received his B.A. from the University of Maryland and his J.D. from Syracuse University.
