10	On June 15, 2017, the Planning Board of Howard County, Maryland, considered the petition of Jon Weinstein for an amendment to the Zoning Regulations to amend Section 131.0.N.17 to allow Country Inns
11	as a Conditional Use in the R-VH District.
12	The Planning Board considered the petition, the Department of Planning and Zoning (DPZ) Technica
13	Staff Report and Recommendation, and the comments of reviewing agencies. DPZ recommended approval o
14	the petition, with minor revisions as noted in Exhibit B. Mr. Weinstein stated that the name of the use
15	category could be changed to Historic Inn. He explained that public restaurants are excluded from the R-VH										R-VH
16	zoning district, because the character is mostly residential. Additionally, allowing a restaurant would compete										ompete
17	with the restaurants on Main Street. Mr. Weinstein said that this proposal would provide another opportunity										tunity
18	to preserve historic buildings, but would likely have a limited impact on the neighborhood. There was no										10
19	testimony in opposition to the petition.
20	Alan Schneider expressed support for preserving historic resources in the County, however; this									s
21	proposal leaves out certain issues, such as having a definition for "compatibility".
