

Maury Zeitler

Biographic Profile

In 2011, Maury retired from the position of Industry Analyst for Banking Relations in the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), a federal financial regulatory agency. Maury joined the OCC in 1991, serving as Associate Director for the Community Development (CD) division. Maury's previous experience includes senior management positions with the Montgomery County, MD, Department of Economic Development and private, non-profit community development organizations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. This work included redevelopment of commercial areas and affordable housing.

In May of 2011, Maury completed certification as a mediator, through the Mediation and Conflict Resolution Center at Howard Community College (HCC), Howard County, MD. He currently serves as a volunteer community mediator with MCRC. He received a BA in Sociology from Hunter College in New York, and a MA in Urban Studies from the University of Maryland.

Maury enjoys traveling and takes courses at HCC. He was appointed to the Howard County Housing and Community Development board of directors in 2014.