Subject: Mental health consideration should now override covid quarantine classrooms

[Note: This email originated from outside of the organization. Please only click on links or attachments if you know the sender.]

I hope this email gets to those who can make a difference. Please forward it to decision makers. I feel like I should take more time to write this more concisely but want to get it out.

I am writing to finally express outrage about covid. Specifically the classroom quarantine for covid.

I don't even know how many times my 3 children have each been sent home for contact tracing and now for whole classroom.

I have told my kids to suck it up for the past 2 years, letting suffer their education and social, emotional and maturity development. For the better of the community. Now it is time for the community to recognize their responsibility to the kids. I have been quiet and bit my tongue and watched my kids suffer, as have most of the parents I know.

TODAY specific case example:

My daughter is struggling. You name it, she's dealing with it. Really good smart kid - failing grades, depression, anxiety, thoughts. This quarantine is exacerbating it. She didn't go to school yesterday because of her mental health. Then excited for today, still a little late but in school...huge win! Then the call, home for the next 3 days...oh we should be happy overlaps a weekend. Don't worry will be back before finals review.

What about the information learning this week...oh it is all on line. Even if it was, finding, and learning on own from a document...I could go on about how awful the virtual version of learning is for a struggling teen for hours. This time just before finals for the 10th grader. Never having had a true final before....which was an awful decision last year! Lets add more stress to the already failing grades. Not in school to make up the make up tests she missed. Was to take a standardized test tomorrow, yes a make up date. So now will get pulled from classes that she is already crazy behind in to do a standardized test and miss more of her regular class. Bad grades and feeling lost in class destroys self esteem which causes more anxiety and more depression.

Not for her, but other kids have clubs, sports and activities that they miss causing them mental issues.

Depression is rampant for so many children. Anxiety, not anxiety of getting sick. Social anxiety, they just didn't continue with their development in their safe school environment to learn how to interact with each other and who they are. And families that you would typically say were not at risk for depression. It is not just a few kids. I have parents reaching out to me for referrals for therapists because they cannot get their kid into one and they are waitlisted for months maybe longer as their kid and therefore their family suffers. For those that I have talked to at the school or county, it isn't just those kids that they are serving, it is their, very own kids too. Ask your own employees.

If you didn't know there are a lot kids that wear their masks at school, not because of parents requiring, covid concerns or peer pressure, it is because of anxiety to hide their faces. Even doing it outside of school, out side by themselves, one I know even with their family

Repeating - I have told my kids to suck it up for the past 2 years for their education and social, emotional and maturity development. For the better of the community. Now it is time for the community to recognize their responsibility to the kids. I have been quiet and bit my tongue and watched my kids suffer, as have most of the parents I know. - Honestly I want to say suck it up to the community. We all have lost a family member or friend to covid. So I am not making light of that. I especially feel for those that are at risk, especially those that cannot do anything about their health. But those who can, we have all had time to get in charge of our physical health, vaccines, boosters, medications, weight, vitamin D or whatever you can possibly do to help your immunity. And most of us have gotten it anyway, often several times. It is spreading, we all know. It is a much, much milder strain, yes some are still hospitalized and possibly die, but at this point you need to look at statistics and compare this current variant with the expected flu. I don't know, but assume, you have access to age statistics (not including the Delta carryover deaths that happened this year). Seeing the differences overall, It is time to allow it to run its course in the kids. Deaths of kids from covid are extremely, extremely, extremely rare. Suicides more common I believe. Our kids have not have committed suicide but boy are so many of them thinking about it. Or so depressed it has at least crossed their minds. To be completely honest most of the parents are glad our children haven't tried, that they know of. More parents than I ever expected told me about their kids hurting themselves. These issues aren't something that they are just going to "outgrow" and get over as the country comes out of the pandemic these are going to be life long struggles. Sending support emails out to kids or parents aren't what they need. This is their everyday, every minute. They need their school life to be back and be consistent. School is most school kids constant. Especially for those with troubled lives. But even for those with good home lives, life is always changing the home life. School schedules are so good for those struggling!

Also, I think it was awful that natural infection wasn't a consideration for so long.

I cannot imagine feeling responsible for the whole community with the decisions that you must make. But, with all that we know now, it is time for the community to take care of themselves in the best way they can as individuals and take back their responsibility for themselves. In my opinion, If kids are symptom free they should be allowed to go to school (with window after positive test to stay home of course), vaccinations or not.

I don't know if that is all, but it is all for now.

Thank you,
Mary Ann Marshall

Dear Howard County Council Member,

I am writing in support of Power52 Foundation's $176,000 financial allocation in the Howard County FY23 Operating Budget.

Power52 Foundation has served the Howard County community and the state of Maryland at-large for nearly a decade. They have impacted droves of individuals' lives for the better. Power52's mission is to break the cycle of poverty, unemployment, under employment, and incarceration in urban communities across the nation through economic empowerment and clean energy access. Their target demographics are at-risk youth, returning citizens, and low-to-moderate income residents.

During the height of the pandemic, Power52 hosted multiple Pull Up & Pick Up events giving away several thousands of pounds of food, supplies, and other resources. These events were held in the Long Reach community of Howard County. Not only this, Power52 Foundation is in partnership with Howard County Public School System providing an abridged program to graduating seniors who do not follow the traditional postgraduate path.

Through Power52's Energy Professional Training Program hundreds of men and women have received nationally recognized certifications and credentials. Furthermore, through this program, Power52 ushered their students into careers in the clean and renewable energy industry. Additionally, Power52 provides additional services and opportunities for their graduates to obtain high credentialing and high education by way of partnerships with Pittsburgh Technical College and Solar Energy Institute to name a few.

This is just a few reasons I stand in support for Power52's $176,000 financial allocation in the Howard County FY23 Operating Budget. This grassroots organization is providing a measurable impact. Join me and other Howard County residents and stakeholders in undergirding their efforts.

Sincerely,

[Note: This email originated from outside of the organization. Please only click on links or attachments if you know the sender.]

Greetings Councilmembers,

We urge you to pass the $1.3 million worth of funding for pre-natal care in the budget today.

Howard County prides itself on being one of the healthiest communities in the country, and yet we have exactly zero maternity clinics who will see ALL women within our county borders. As a result, many pregnant women seeking care have to travel outside of Howard County in order to get basic prenatal services – which is not only inconvenient, but often impossible for many. Far too often, women do not get the maternity care they need until very late in their pregnancy, or sometimes not at all.

Many women without insurance are simply unable to get prenatal care in Howard County because it doesn't exist for them. This lack of care disproportionately harms women of color, leading to poor birth outcomes, including premature birth, low birth weight and even infant or maternal death.

For many years, Montgomery County has offered an effective Maternity Partnership program with area hospitals that provides prenatal care to uninsured pregnant women. As a result of the program, 97% of babies born to Partnership mothers were born at a healthy weight. Similar programs exist in Washington, D.C. and Virginia as well. What are we waiting for in Howard County?

Support the advent of fair and equitable healthcare for mothers in your county today."

To the County Council

I am writing in support of funding the purchase of Camp Ilchester. So much of advocacy is frustrating and there are so rarely wins. I think that this is an excellent choice for the county and a proof to the many scouts who have worked so hard that their efforts can make a difference.

Thank you for your time.

Good morning,

As a supporter of Power 52, it disappoints me to learn that funding may be cut to this wonderful opportunity for individuals to change their lives! Please do not cut funding to this fantastic program.

Please continue to keep Power 52 in your budget. This program is a very good thing to have for our young men and women to lead product lives.

Power52's Energy Professional Training program is approved by the Maryland Higher Education Commission and is accredited by The National Center for Construction, Education & Research (NCCER). Each cohort is 320 clock-hours of training which includes 225 clock-hours of classroom instruction, OSHA 10, 75 lab hours, and 20 clock-hours of job readiness. The curriculum covers the basic concepts of Solar Photovoltaic (PV) systems and their components. It also explains how PV systems are sized, designed, and installed. Power52 Employer Partners have been instrumental in overseeing that our training curriculum is aligned to meet workforce needs and the needs of our employment partners.

Good Morning,
Please don't stop the funding for the communities.
It's desperately need for the communities, local business and surrounding areas.
Thank you,
Patricia

Please do not cut the allocated funding allotted for Power52. Power52's impact on the community has such a positive effect. The monies allocated are used support Howard County's underserved communities.

Dear Elected Officials,

Please include the funds for the purchase of Camp Ilchester in your final budget. I am a Girl Scout Leader, my daughter is a Girl Scout, and our family, and countless other families and children will benefit greatly for years to come with this investment. Thank you!
