15 Section 1.406. - Definitions.

16 The following terms, as used herein, unless a different meaning is clearly implied by the 17 context, shall have the following meanings:

18 (a) Accrued benefit.

19 (1) Accrued benefit means the benefit to which a participant is entitled, pursuant to the 20 provisions of sections 1.428—1.432, expressed as the normal form of monthly benefit
21 commencing at normal retirement date or the actuarial equivalent thereof.

22 (2) The accrued benefit as of any date preceding the participant's normal retirement date,
23 but expressed as aforesaid, shall be the monthly benefit computed pursuant to section
24 1.429, 1.431 or 1.432.

25 (3) In no event, however, shall the accrued benefit exceed the maximum limitation
26 determined, as of the date of computation, pursuant to section 1.433.

27 (4) (i) The portion of the participant's accrued benefit attributable to the participant's 28 contributions made pursuant to sections 1.426 and 1.427 shall be equal to the 29 actuarial equivalent of the participant's employee contributions benefit, expressed
30 as the normal form of monthly benefit commencing at normal retirement date.

1 (ii) The portion of the participant's accrued benefit attributable to employer
2 contributions shall be the remainder, if any, of the accrued benefit.

3 (b) Actuarial equivalent means a form of benefit differing in time, period or manner of 4 payment from a specific benefit provided under the plan but having the same value when 5 computed based upon the following:

6 Pre-retirement and post-retirement:

7 GAM 83 Mortality Table (blended 50 percent male, 50 percent female)

8 Eight percent per annum interest rate.

9 Cost of living adjustment:

10 Three percent per annum compounded.

11 The foregoing factors, to the extent applicable, shall be utilized (whether or not there is a specific 12 reference to this definition) whenever in the administration of the plan a calculation of actuarial
13 equivalence is to be made.

14 (c) Actuarial reduction.

15 (1) Actuarial reduction means a reduction which will cause a benefit with a starting date
16 which precedes a participant's normal retirement date to be the actuarial equivalent of 17 the benefit which would otherwise have been payable at such normal retirement date.

18 (2) However, notwithstanding any factors set forth in the definition of actuarial equivalent:

19 (i) For participants who reach a termination date on or before August 31, 2002, the 20 reduction shall be equal to one-half percent of the benefit for each month by which 21 the participant's benefit commencement date precedes the first day of the month
22 coincident with or next following the date on which the participant attains age 62;
23 and

24 (ii) For participants who reach a termination date after August 31, 2002, the reduction 25 shall be equal to one-half percent of the benefit for each month by which the 26 participant's benefit commencement date precedes the first day of the month
27 coincident with or next following:

28 a. The date on which the participant attains age 62; or

10 (2) Except as provided in subsection 1.431(d), the average compensation of a participant
11 who was not employed on a full-time basis shall be calculated using the full-time
12 equivalent of the participant's compensation.

13 (3) Any calendar month during which a full-time participant was not employed on a full-
14 time basis or was on a leave of absence for all or any part of the month shall be 15 disregarded for purposes of the foregoing, and the existence of such calendar months
16 shall be ignored and shall not be counted in determining the 36 consecutive full 17 calendar months of the participant's employment which produce the highest average.

18 (4) If the participant's employment does not provide 36 consecutive full calendar months as 19 aforesaid, compensation for the participant's most recent 36 full calendar months of 20 employment will be totaled and divided by 36.

21 (5) If the participant's employment does not provide 36 full calendar months, compensation

23 number thereof.
